Diana,

Another 7 hours of work, 25 more pages reviewed/revised. I am up to page 80 now. Plan to work about 4 more hours tomorrow (errands tomorrow morning including a doctor's visit) so not sure I will finish. But there are plenty of comments for you to review in my revisions to date. A big question for Question 5 is how much duplication to retain. A lot of the responses to this section duplicate preceding discussions.

Also, once we get the Committee's comments on my revisions, I can spend an hour creating the "numbered recommendation list" using Word's "Insert Caption" capability. Since very few know how to do this successfully I will not bother you or the Committee with this at this point. It just confuses people when they want to add a recommendation but don't know how. For now, they can simply add in a bolded "Recommendation XX: " statement and I can fix at the end - and automatically populate the "Table of Recommendations".
